- Account number
- Customer billing date, due date and cut-off date
- Current charges, any previous balance and full total due now
- Late payment total
- Service address
- Line item descriptions for: two water meters (if applicable), including irrigation and home meters; curbside garbage collection rate; and sewer rate.
- The "Prior Reading" column shows the beginning reading from the meter. Following a new meter installation, this will reflect either a "0" (zero) or a low number, which is the small amount of water used as crews test meters.
- The "Current Reading" column shows the water meter total at end of the billing period.
- The "Usage" column is generally calculated by subtracting "Prior Reading" from "Current Reading." Following a new meter installation, this column is calculated by adding the water used until a meter was changed out and any new meter usage thus far.
- Please note, sewer usage equals the same as your water usage.
- The Amounts are based on current Utility Service Rates (see rate sheet for details). There is always a base charge for service, even if your usage is at "0" (zero). Please note, there are no utility rate increases due to the current meter replacement project. Rates were last increased in Nov. 2019.
- Customers may notice a different billing date time period. Your current bill is based on the date your water meters were replaced until the end of the current period.
- If your bill looks different than this example, or if you have other questions, please contact the Town of Fort Mill's Business Office at (803) 547-2034.
