Gas Cook Top Ranges & GFCI Requirements

The intent of the code is not to protect those outlets that are not required to be protected as part of the Kitchen Small Appliance circuits (receptacles installed inside cabinets above or below countertops for plug-n-play in disconnects for built in appliances). However, there is no verbiage in current code that prohibits a Gas Cook Top from being installed on a GFCI receptacle. Therefore, it will be up to the decision of the Builder of record regarding this matter.
